'TIME TO DRAW THE LINE'

THURSDAY 31 MAY 6.00pm

Frontyard Films and FILEF invite you to a special screening of a documentary on a contemporary David and Goliath battle, on the vexed issue of maritime boundaries between Australian and its newest and smallest neighbour, Timor Leste.

SPECIAL
FILM NIGHT

Time TO DRAW the Line

A confronting David & Goliath story about two neighbours - East Timor and Australia

An emotional study of Australia's long connection to Timor Leste revealing a chequered relationship of friendship and betrayal.

Frontyard Films is the film production company of Australian documentary filmmakers Amanda 'Mandy' King and Fabio Cavadini, who have been making films together for more than 20 years.

SPECIAL GUEST Sister Susan Connelly

Susan Connelly is a Sister of St Joseph, the Catholic Religious Congregation founded by St Mary MacKillop and refugee advocate. Susan is now one of Australia's most respected supporters of the East Timorese people and is studying aspects of the relationship between Australia and Timor-Leste.
